In the heat of night neon lights are so bright
I don't know where the hell they are leading me
So I walk like I'm blind, feel I'm loosing my mind Are you sure it is how it's supposed to be?

No, but it seems to me I'm falling down to the same old ground again

Cold City Lights all over you Cold City is playing games with you Cold City Lights make sure that nothing is what it seems Cold City Lights you've got to know Cold City I'll never let you go Cold City Lights all over land of the broken dreams Everybody looks down, what is wrong with this town?
Every piece of it's caught in a web of fear
In the middle of the crowd you can scream, you can shout
I'm afraid there's no one that'll ever hear you and it seems to me you're falling
down to the same old ground again

Voices inside my head playing games and it sounds like a war
I'd pretend to be dead, no, no more
