[April 2000 - The Third Expedition]

"Open up the window"-said the light-"See into another world"

Is it only a dream?

Voices sound familiar in the night...could this be reality?

Or is it all in my mind?

Why me? Could I just be "The One"? Or have I come undone?

Head in through the door and start to run straight into another life,

dear old friends beside me

Never had a dream that's so surreal-could this be the end for me?

Am I losing my mind?

Still...I just stay.Can't run away-there's a price to pay

Look into the sky thru the naked eye,in a flash of light - surrender

Losing everything,soldiers march and sing.Distant bells

will ring - surrender

Let the children cry-earth will breath a sigh in a blaze of light - surrender

They're taking everything.Demons dance and sing when the chimes will ring

The end is here

"Open up the window"-said the light-"Welcome to another world"

Dear old friends beside me

Voices so familiar every night-could this be reality?

Am I losing my mind?
