Forty-nine percent
One percent short of half
And less than half
Ain't really much of nothing

One percent short of half
And less than half
Ain't really much of nothing

I won't try to dent you right
Or stop your flight
I've known our plight
You know I'm right
I know about your little fling
How you hide your ring
You senseless thing
I'll cut this string
The heat has simmered for a while
It's not my style
So versatile and with a smile
At anytime, I could explode
When you kissed your toad
You kissed your princely episode

Forty-nine percent
One percent short of half
And less than half
Ain't really much of nothing

Forty-nine percent
One percent short of half
And less than half
Ain't really much of nothing

Bit off more than one could bite
And the taste is slight
It leaves this dullish appetite
About time I've finally seen the light
And said goodnight
For the sling is tight

We'll lose this fight
In a corner painted white
As you fly your kite
I shun the sight, I've seen the light
And now I've got to say goodnight
You know I'm right

Forty-nine percent
One percent short of half
And less than half
Ain't really much of nothing

Forty-nine percent
And less than half

I won't try to stop you flight
Or chage your night or nothing
Less than half
Why won't you try
To make this damage better

Math and imagery
Equates cacophony
Multiplies muteness
A sum better disturbed
For silence subtracts
And shadows divide light
Less than half is slight

For silence subtracts

The heat has simmered for a while
The heat has simmered for a while
The heat has simmered for a while

Forty-nine percent
One percent short of half

I won't try to stop you flight
Or chage your night or nothing
Less than half

Fourty-nine percent
One percent short of half
And less than half

Oh fourty-nine percent
And less than half
Ain't really much of nothing, yeah

The heat has simmered for a while
