(Jerry Foster - Bill Rice)

Love me now while you can and pretend you understand
So tonight won't be a thing that I'll regret
Tomorrow's not a friend for it brings the hurt again
So tell me the night's not over yet.

If my fingers trace her likeness on your face
Don't let pride pull you away
Reach and touch the teardrops and though my cheeks are wet
Tell me the night's not over yet.

For tonight just one time share the troubles on my mind
Hold me close and help me to forget
If you cry from the shame when I call you by her name
Just tell me the night's not over yet.

In your arms I feel the warmth of love again
And tomorrow's no concern
I've still got a yesterday I'm tryin' to forget
So tell me the night's not over yet.

When tomorrow comes we'll make believe we never met
But tell me the night's not over yet...
