(Glenn Sutton)

Picture two arms as empty as trees without leaves
And two lips much colder than winter's first breeze
Fill two eyes with teardrops until they can't see
Then you'll have a portrait of me.

Then fashion a frame from a heart that can't be freeze
Cause it's completely surrounded by ole memories
Then hang it up high so the whole world can see
And you'll have a portrait of me.

--- Instrumental ---

Then fashion a frame from a heart that can't be freeze...
Then you'll have a portrait of me...
