(Curly Putman)

When I remember Rose I remember neon lights
Checkered table cloth and a dress that fits so tight
Loud laughing and music in a noisy smoke filled room
But still my mind keeps coming right back there to you.

You remind me of sunshine and roses baby
Rainbows and waterfalls
Warm arms around me so tight
You remind me of twilight and hay rides baby
Fireflies and moonlight
And you're soft and warm beside me baby ev'ry night.

When I remember Ann I think of love like fire
Demanding arms phony charms and wild desire
Society's child a little wild and a heart that's never true
But still my mind keeps coming right back there to you.

You remind me of sunshine and roses baby
Rainbows and waterfalls
Warm arms around me so tight
You remind me of twilight and hay rides baby
Fireflies and moonlight
And you're soft and warm beside me baby ev'ry night...
