You say nothing feels like the first time and I know it
Would be quite stupid, hello
I just wanted to levitate up in the sky
Just to get rid of you and the little things that you do
And the little things that you do
And the little things that you do
You are watching my every step so don't except our love

To grow bold
I just wanted to levitate up in the sky
Just to get rid of you and the little things that you do
And the little things that you do
And the little things that you do

Everything look so big but oh so small when I look down
But I think that I will stay here for a while even if it
Grows darker now
I say it ain't gonna work out for us so you see we better
Just end it right here
I just wanted to levitate up in the sky
Just to get rid of you and the little things that you do

And the little things that you do
And the little things that you do
And the little things that you do
And the little things that you do
