A hundred lovers in my bed,
A million more Inside my head,
I didn't miss you since my love has made me blind,
I thought I'd never feel again.

And then you kissed me on october 29,
And then you kissed me on october 29,
I didn't miss you since my love has made me blind,
And then you kissed me on october 29.

I looked to fear I was afraid,
I made my love a masquerade,
But with a single look you truly proved me wrong,
And caused a crack in the facade.

And then you kissed me on october 29,
And then you kissed me on october 29,
I didn't miss you since my love has made me blind,
And then you kissed me on october 29.

Yes I recall the summer air,
And purple flowers in your hair,
But when you left to see the beauty of the world,
I thought we'd say goodbye forever.

And then you kissed me on october 29,
And then you kissed me on october 29,
I didn't miss you since my love has made me blind,
And then you kissed me on october 29.

On october 29,
On october 29,
I didn't miss you since my love has made me blind,
And then you kissed me,
And then you kissed me, on october 29.
