There's a river flowin
You're gonna get where it's going
You're gonna come, gonna come
Like justice on stolen land

Far from the sun,
Out of luck and into the ground
Save this man, load his gun
This is what I mean.

Yeah the moon and the sun
They'll drop and fall doawn
And the walls, the walls the walls will come down
Yeah the waves n'the sun
They'll crash and crack down

Filling your scream and teasing your mind

Dealing with society
I saw you crossing the red sea
Puttin iron all over yourself
Ready for the miracle you've learned to expect

All over town,
Close to fear and high above the ground
Save some words loadin his gun
This is what I hear

Yeah the moon and the sun
They'll drop and fall down...
