

Laughing In The Face Of "I'm Not Your Buddy, Guy"

Visit "I'm Not Your Buddy, Guy" on MotoLyrics.com

Three decades and two fistfuls of broken glass Shattered dreams and discontentment
I blamed it all on everyone except myself, Except myself, the only one and I read too far into the words between the lines
If I could give up just one thing, it'd be to never care Watch the storm and rain pass by
And if moving forward must be done with a little sense of fear
I won't question or ask why, question or ask why
There's no use
No need to Give in to my worst foe, the one real enemy
It's a trait that does more harm than good Take these dreams and twist them into lies
Turn them into something I despise
This is the ending to this strife
Another chapter, still survived
Leave me with this token bitterness, a silent cry Move on forward to the next degree of shallow emptiness
Deleted scenes from the negative side of my life

Visit Laughing In The Face Of page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.