[Spoken:]

At war with myself, and took it to the street

Another grey afternoon of the soul

Infinite repetition with no end in sight

Karmic Debts from another life I am starting to remember

A little here, a little there, Mitochondrial memory

Up the twisting ladder

I recognized you instantly

Although we've never met, something in your eyes

From so many thousands years ago

I was never young, and neither were you

[Man:] Who the hell are you?

[Strange voice:] You know who I am

[Man:] Are you who I think you are?

[Strange voice:] Yes

I am here!

You know me!

Here I am!

I was half asleep or was I half awake?

Pressure from my chest, impossible to breathe

I forced my eyes to look

And you are all I see

Speaking in thoughts, boring into me (I've lost it)

[Strange voice:] You wanted to make a deal, so here I am, well...

[Man:] I didn't mean it, this is not what I asked for [Strange voice:] Well, you said it, and now I am here!

Be careful what you wish for

I am here!

You know me!

Here I am!

I know you!

[Strange voice:] Be careful what you wish for Infinite repetition...
