Come on and rescue me
From all this misery
I know what I want
But I can't hold my own

I found the perfect friend
Who's got his perfect life
Now I can move ahead
Because all I want is more

Now who's the monster holding their tongue
Saying the last words all you want
Who's the helpless life is undone
Permanent means permanent

It's too late to say
Is anybody out there?
It's too late to say
Is anybody out there?

Away from all I know
So I can give my show
For those who want to hear
That I want to be on top (?)

I did a lot for just a single day
I got it all and I got it made
Where did all my friends and family gone
I just don't know

Now who's the monster holding their tongue
Saying the last words all you want
Who's the helpless life is undone
Permanent means permanent
It's too late to say
Is there anybody out there?
It's too late to say
Is there anybody out there?
It's too late to say
Is there anybody out there?
It's to late to say
Is there anybody out there?

Who feels the same way that I do?
Burning up in side
Who knows the problems I've been through?
Is there anybody out there

Now who's the monster holding their tongue (anybody out there)
Saying the last words all you want
Who's the helpless life is undone (Is there anybody out there)
Permanent means permanent

Now who's the monster holding their tongue
Saying the last words all you want
Who's the helpless life is undone
Permanent means permanent

It's too late to say
Is there anybody out there?
It's too late to say
Is there anybody out there?
