[Anubis5] I rock in ways that you never could imagine Packing the action, I'm like Christ, I carry a passion And I rip artificial superficial kids with images That only act hard to prove what the fuck they're living in [Andy Able] Hold up, wait a minute, it's not me who's trying to laugh yet We always get the last word in, it's one of our main assets We lash back at close minded heads, suppose I am dead We'll still keep it heavy like stone iron lead motherfucker So I figure it's ignorant to ignore the rest But picture it's significance is invalid at best All their talent is found in the background to sink fast We always come, we think first and we never seem to think last [Anubis5] Think that everything is nothing but a pleasant dream When in reality nothing is really what it seems Now these entities bleed to try to prove that they're above it Come back and find me if you want to make something of it Homosexuals
