I am your undisputed king of bad directions

We rarely made it to the place I knew we'd shine

I cannot read straight lines

I misinterpret signs at crucial times

But here we are...

Once in a while I get it right I'm due sarcasm

Once in a while some hindsight will show me where I am

I am your all time faulty social carburator

Depending on the climate I sputter, spurt, or stall

My way of building walls,

I build'em way too tall, screening calls

'Cause here we are

Once in a while I get it right I'm due sarcasm

Once in a while some hindsight will show me where I...

If chemistry were currency,

you'd have enough to walk out on me

You'd have enough to walk out on me

Once in a while, it's only once in a while

Once in a while I get it right I'm due sarcasm

Once in a while some hindsight will show me where I am

Once in a while I get it right I'm due sarcasm

Once in a while some hindsight will show me where I
am

show me were I am, show me where I am
