Hundred-fifty tons of steel, rolling through the night
Sparks are dancing in the smoke, the fire's raging wild Hundredweights of blackest coal to feed its burning
hunger
A melting pot of glowing steel, a hell of grime and smoke

Smoke and fire, run that pyre

Steam and thunder gonna roll you under Rage and fury gonna spell its name, Locomotive

The railway's gonna squeaking hard, wheels are dragging over
Red hot grease is on the steel, oiling all the bars Rhythm's gonna pounding hard, the monsters own thunder
The whistle-pipe is blowing strong, foretelling what to come

Smoke and fire, run that pyre

Steam and thunder gonna roll you under
Rage and fury gonna spell its name, Locomotive

The stoker's gonna shoveling coal to melt it in the fire Sweat is dripping from his brow, vaporizing in the heat

Pressure's gonna rising high, speeding up the engine
Purgatory comes alive to burn on fires rage
So comon now

Hundred-fifty tons of steel, rolling through the night
Sparks are dancing in the smoke, the fire's raging wild Hundredweights of blackest coal to feed its burning
hunger
A melting pot of glowing steel, a hell of grime and
smoke

Smoke and fire, run that pyre

Steam and thunder gonna roll you under
Rage and fury gonna spell its name, Locomotive
