"Heaven"

The night comes

I'm not at home

Bodies next to me

On the ground

Sons are running

Over your screen

It is red now

Where the grass once was green

Standing, running, I'm back again

Please, don't look at me

My hands are not the same, mama

Won't you forgive me my sins

Heaven lies over your

Lies lying over your

The night is gone

The morning comes

My sun is lost

In cloudy skies

Knights come home

Being proud of their deeds

And I know you well

I miss you, I forgive you

i kiss you, but you are not here

Heaven lies over your

Lies lying over your

Frightning, your shining, rising, your fear,...

Heaven lies over your

Lies lying over your

Heaven lies over your

Lies lying over your
