Well I don't really know if I can open up
Enough to sing this song
You know how hard I tried to hide myself
I know that's wrong
But you don't know the first thing
About the pain of not having you
Let me try to say in my simple words
How much I love you - I love you

I hear your voice everywhere
You face is all I see
And I understand what you're going through
So I just let things be
But at times if I don't catch my heart - will I loose
It
And I miss you - but I not here to bring you down

I love you, I love you

Your eyes burn inside of me - into feelings that I fear
Yet
When I make magic love to you - this being that I am
This fool that I am - whoever I am disappears
I love you

I Know that I've said that it's fine with me
Who you're sleeping with tonight
I've also told you that I do not lie
Well some times I might
But believe - that I'll come for you
The day the night - it's right to do
Until then - God bless and keep your soul and know
I love you - I love you
