"Generations Underground"

Generations underground, fight the curse of fashion
Feed the nations with no sound, music with a passion

Catch - your dreams - and steal - your fear
Shake - the walls - with what - you hear

Wake the demons in your head, take away the darkness
Build the bridges now we're here, music at it's hardest

We were lost but now are found
Generations underground

Generations underground, now we can be freed
Make it loud & make it clear, this is what we need

Catch - your dreams - and steal - your fear
Shake - the walls - with what - you hear

Turn the volume into light, shatter the illusion
Choke the silence, make your choice, take away confusion

We were lost but now are found
Generations underground
