Never thought I would, find the words that could
Stand up through any weather
Something I could say, you could hear today
But stay with you forever

Just when I was losing my faith
And I was losing my way
It came to me as clear as day

Even if I wake up and find I'm alone
'Cause the whole world's turned to stone
And my God says, 'It's time I take you home'
I'll be happy goin', knowing that I loved you

Innocent and mild, must be Heaven's child
Sent to make me believe
On my darkest night, all I have to do is smile
Then you breathe new life into me

Just when I was losing my faith
And losing my way
You came to me as clear as day

Even if I wake up and find I'm alone
'Cause the whole world's turned to stone
And my God says, 'It's time I take you home'
I'll be happy goin', knowing that I loved you

There'll be a time, when I'm gonna have to leave
This sweet place behind, but baby before I go
I gotta make sure you know
About the joy that you bring to my life

Even if I wake up and find I'm alone
'Cause the whole world's turned to stone
And my God says, 'It's time I take you home'
I'll be happy goin', knowing that I loved you

Even if I wake up and find I'm alone
'Cause the whole world's turned to stone
And my God says, 'It's time I take you home'
I'll be happy goin', knowing that I loved you

I'll be happy goin', knowing that I loved you
I'll be happy goin', knowing that I loved you
I'll be happy goin', knowing that I loved you
Knowing that I loved you, knowing that I loved you
