Everything is so beautiful Everything is so simple now
The colors weave into symbols of life and the symbols of life they weave into the wind

Oh weary child rest your head Very soon the colors come to life and the child will be born born on our death
the child will be born on our death

Oh let the child be born and be brought to the sun
As the symbols of life weave into the wind (Repeat 1 time)

The child will be born
born on our death
And the sun will be of the summer
And the world will be of the sun
And the sun will be of the summer
Child will be born on our death

Everything is simple now Nothing has ever changed Until we respect our Mother Earth
Let it all break down
