In the middle of the earth in the land of the Shire lives a brave little hobbit whom we all admire.

With his long wooden pipe, fuzzy, woolly toes,
he lives in a hobbit-hole and everybody knows him

Chorus

Bilbo (Bilbo), Bilbo Baggins
He's only three feet tall
Bilbo (Bilbo), Bilbo Baggins
The bravest little hobbit of them all

Now hobbits are peace-loving folks you know They don't like to hurry and they take things slow
They don't like to travel away from home
They just want to eat and be left alone But one day Bilbo was asked to go on a big adventure to the caves below, to help some dwarves get back their gold that was stolen by a dragon in the days of old.

Chorus

Well, he fought with the goblins
He battled a troll
He riddled with Gollum
A magic ring he stole
He was chased by wolves Lost in the forest
Escaped in a barrel from the elf-king's halls

Bilbo (Bilbo), Bilbo Baggins
The bravest little hobbit of them all

Now he's back in his home in the land of the Shire, that brave little hobbit whom we all admire, just sitting on a treasure of silver and gold puffin' on his pipe in his hobbit-hole.

Chorus
