I feel you so close to me I hope you still think of me even I know you found another love you took away my chance to be with you forever

to be your love and stay together you gave away the precious love that we had to somebody else oh baby I wanna tell you remember me

remember everything we used to be can you feel my heart pounding, pounding
remember you, remember me I remember everything we used to be 'cause my blood is still pumping, pumping

I need you, but it's o.k.
I know that, I'll find my way I will begin to find another love

'cause my blood is still pumping, pumping

I feel you

even I know

'cause my blood is still pumping, pumping
