We thought we could fly.

Breathe in, breathe out,
Because all you ever do is suffocate.
You smell like smoke
And my lungs are so sick of this joke.

Leaves turn brown from green.
I am so bored of this routine.
The air is cold I knew
I would do anything for you.

We thought we could fly

Oh no, oh God,
These stormy seas look to swallow me.
The sky is black.
To break my heart was your attack.

How could you hurt me?
I thought we were friends how wrong could I be?
I've got one over you
Now that I've stolen your perfume.

We thought we could fly
But we fell straight into the ground
Our bodies will not be found
The wind will scatter our ashes.
I miss your breath on the back of my neck,
It's just so hard to accept,
I know I'm not going down gracefully.

We are crashing we're crashing down.
We are crashing we're crashing down.
We are crashing we're crashing down.
We are crashing we're crashing down.

The wind will scatter our ashes.

We thought we could fly

But we fell straight into the ground
Our bodies will not be found
The wind will scatter our ashes.
I miss your breath on the back of my neck,
It's just so hard to accept,
I know I'm not going down gracefully.
