I wish I could have you here. One arm wrapped around you, dear.

But you're in my rear-view mirror lookin' back at me.

Once we used to be so close. I smiled with you the most. About you I would boast, then I had to set you free.

(Chorus)

Wishin' you were here with me in the middle seat of this F-150 in the hot summer heat.

One hand on the wheel, one hand holding you, in the middle seat of my F-150.

It wasn't long ago when I passed you on the road.

You were in that guy's black truck but you didn't see me.

I saw he made you ride on the passenger side.

It look like the Great Divide, not where you'd want to be.

(Chorus)

(Bridge)

My V-8 won't get up and go since you're gone. My radio won't play our favorite Alabama songs.

(Chorus)

La La La La La

La La La La La
