You're much too great I make a space so that I can relate
I keep you in It's easier when you're not so big

But now looking up I am free
You're finally released of what I want you to be
I throw up my hands I never understand
So just be and I'll just be... Amazed

This wall I've built was made slowly out of years of guilt
But now I see because your Love drives fear away from me

But now looking up I am free
You're so much greater than I allowed you to be
I throw up my hands I finally understand
So just be and I'll just be... Amazed
