How do you cool your lips, after a summer's kiss?

How do you rid the sweat, after the body bliss?

How do you turn your eyes, from the romantic glare?

How do you block the sound of a voice, you'd know anywhere?

Oh I really should have known,

By the time you drove me home,

By the vagueness in your eyes,

Your casual good-byes,

By the chill in your embrace,

The expression on your face, that told me,

Maybe you might have, some advise to give, on how to be, insensitive.

How do you numb your skin, after the warmest touch?

How do you slow your blood, after the body rush?

How do you free your soul, after you've found a friend?

How do you teach your heart it's a crime, to fall in love again?

Well you prob'bly won't remember me,

It's prob'bly ancient history,

I'm one of the chosen few,

Who went ahead and fell for you,

I'm out of bold, I'm out of touch,

I fell too fast, I feel too much,

I thought that you might have, some advise to give, on how to be, insensitive.

Oh I really sould have known,

By the time you drove me home,

by the vagueness in your eyes,

You casual good-byes,

By the chill in your embrace,

The expression on your face, that told me,

Maybe you might have, some advise to give, on how to
be, insensitive.

(how to be) insensitive

(how to be) insensitive

(how to be)
