Impress the addicts, oh-so over dramatic.
Death to anybody that you deem unattractive.
Welcome to the century where image is god,
Pay no attention to me, just keep your TV's on.
All those years we've spent so fucking pateintly glued Below the profiting men, bring harm and send in the doom
Of me and you.
We'll use our bodies for lust.
I guess you're right, I just don't give a fuck.
So if you're bored, strike a fucking chord

And stop posing for the dreadful product.
Blow a kiss back to a time before you knew how loose your Lips could get.
And forfeit.

Be careful who you trust, I just can't take you serious.
Won't be the last to say it but enough is enough.
I just can't take you serious
I just can't take you serious
I just can't take you serious
Enough is enough is enough.
