So I, turn my back on all of the stupid games that you play so I just won't go there with you, you should know it's not my way

All I do in front of you is just act the part that you say never again will I be played the puppet starting today

You say goodbye and I won't need you, I won't call you You think there's always something more there is to say

Don't ever waste my time when you dont care and I'm thinking of me this time and I am more than just fine difference between you and I is I'll never play with your mind and I'll tell you truth never lies, I guess this is my goodbye

Next time, you see me I'll be on the, cover of' some magazine you'll hear a song on the radio, realize that it's me you'll see what we had back then before you felt you had to see what else was there, for you with someone else I hope you're happy

One day when you're all alone you will find your thinking of me then you will just realize that I, was the man of your dreams...
