Mother was the kind of girl you saw every day at school she really didnt know her name she had a friend in the neighborhood once walking home, we asked her if she would like to come in out of the rain he asked her for a kiss, she gave him one What they did that day couldnt be undone

if it hadn't rained that day
if it hadn't rained
everything would have been different...

Drug store test was possitive she knew she couldnt keep the kid and she wept without making a sound the day she was going to end it she was walking out the door for the clinic but the rain.. it was pooring down she sat on the coach, oprah was on children saying what their mothers had done..

now im alive, and i might not be holding my son and my daughter close to me were at home, and were a family i might not have this love surrounding me

each day i thank God that it rained...
