i wish she'd haunt me i wish she'd come with her white hair and white light and she'd tell me sweetly, "honey, everything is going to be all right"

i feel her in my bones at night i said i feel her i feel her in my soul at night

i wish he'd haunt me i didn't like him much while he was here hope he doesn't take it personally and doesn't blow cigarette smoke in my ear

i feel him in my bones at night i said i feel him
i smell him with my nose, alright

he'd have to duck 'cause he was tall i wish i'd known him better he raised my daddy when my daddy was small

i feel him in my bones at night
i said i feel him
i feel him in my toes at night

the older sister i never had the ultimate theft and now i'm * years older than she was when she left i feel her in my fingertips

i feel her when i do backflips
i said i feel her
i said i feel her
i'd do cartwheels for her alright
