

Ryan Malcolm

"Roadtime Rag"

Visit "Roadtime Rag" on MotoLyrics.com

Don't have much memory, but Ive been there
Red sun was shining, fading away.
I in my laughter, you in your dismay,
We reconciled, reconciled the day.
Now there are some things,
Things I keep inside that you might like to hear,
But then again there are some things, darling,
That I don't need you to yell in my ear.
Vision is hazy but I know weve been there,
That huge canyon glowing,
That endless yellow-lined road
And I in my cloudiness,
You in your rationale,
We canceled, canceled each other out.
Now, there are some people
Who live to please each other, never have to work
things out,
But, then again, these are the same people
Who ask me and wonder what my time with you is all about
Don't have much memory, but Ive been there,
Red sun was shining, fading away.
And I in my laughter, you in your dismay,
We reconciled, reconciled the day.
Reconciled, reconciled, the day.

Visit Ryan Malcolm page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.