Tuesday morning, I jump out my front door
Early morning, never noticed them before
Neighbors laughin cross the street
People laughin right in front of me
Never noticed them before
On a tuesday morning, I jump out my front door
Early morning, swear I never been here before
People Laughin cross the street
My friends laughin right in front of me
Never noticed them before
Go and get your Feelings hurt
Drive a bit, and you can get your poor little feelings hurt
Swallow your pride and you might find
A better way of life, better way of life, better way of life
