There is no truth in life
Only a death can you find
That here is no peace
And what it means to be alive

There is no truth
That will set you free
Swallow your tongue
Before you try to say what's best for me

You don't know
Never walked a day in me shoes
And I'll be damned if I turn out like you

Malicious the way you twist you words
This vicious cycle that I'm in
Feels more like a curse

When will enough be enough?
The world's been dead to me for too long
So sing me a sad song
And tell me that I'll never belong
Maybe you're right, maybe I'm all wrong
But the world's been dead to me for too long
Sad songs, you and me we'll never belong
Maybe you're right, maybe I'm all wrong
But the world's been dead to me for too long
The world's been dead to me for too long
(Too long, too long, too long, too long)

You don't really know
What's best for me
Save it for someone else
So before you open your mouth
Know I don't need your help
What I really need
Is for you to go fuck yourself

Fuck yourself

So tell me

Does it give you that sour taste you hate?
There'll be no peace between you and me
Does it give you that sour taster you hate?
There'll be no peace

So sing me a sad song
And tell me that I'll never belong
Maybe you're right, maybe I'm all wrong
But the world's been dead to me for too long
Sad songs, you and me we'll never belong
Maybe you're right, maybe I'm all wrong
But the world's been dead to me for too long
The world's been dead to me for too long
(Too long, too long, too long, too long)

Does it give you that sour taste you hate?
To know I'll go my own way
Does it give you that sour taster you hate?
(You hate, you hate)

(So sing me a sad song)
Does it give you that sour taste you hate?
To know I'll go my own way
Does it give you that sour taste you hate?
(You hate, you hate)
