Knock knock who could it be could it be my ex chicadee whos at the door Standing in the rain down on her knees in public we smiled walking hand & hand But behind closed doors things were different 24/7 we were arguing & I tried My best to be a better man all of your friends think I'm a crazy man Cause that's the way you portraited me to be now I don't care what you think No cause you know that I was good to you and now I'm saying

(chorus)

I'm leaving you shorty our days are through wasted days wasted nights with you I'll be better off without you I tried my best to make you understand no no no But you didn't I'm over iy you'll realize what you had & when you do
Don't come runn'n back say'n you miss me you need me that I'm your one and only no all of my friends Say I'm a simple man & that's just how I intended it to be now
I don't care what you think no cause you know I gave my best to you & now it's too late I'm leaving you...

(chorus)
