Working hard, hard to catch a break,
In a crowded town, tryin' to find my place,
And I'm so damn tired, both hands on the wheel
And I call you now, cause you know how it feels

I'm leaning on you again
Cause I know you'll understand

I'm gonna make it right, gonna make it right,
I've been knocked down, but I've got one more fight
I'm running in the night, but I'm running to the light,
This is the time and the place and I swear
That I'm gonna make it right

Working hard, hard to catch a break,
In a crowded town, tryin' to find my place,
And I'm so damn tired, both hands on the wheel
And I call you now, cause you know how it feels

It's moments like this I find,
I've never felt so alive

I'm gonna make it right, gonna make it right,
I've been knocked down, but I've got one more fight
I'm running in the night, but I'm running to the light,
This is the time and the place and I swear
That I'm gonna make it right

I'm not giving up, I'm not giving in,
I'm gonna ride this wave,
And if it kills me then I'll know I live

I'm gonna make it right, gonna make it right,
I've been knocked down, but I've got one more fight
I'm running in the night, but I'm running to the light,
This is the time and the place and I swear
That I'm gonna make it right

Everybody needs a plan
Everybody feels the same
[repeat until fade]
