You are Chicago
When it's frozen and cold
While all the east coast
Is praying for snow
Could you spare some?
Will you spare some? No?
I didn't think so

You are a crowd scene
On the fourth of July
Watching their old dreams
Explode in the sky
But the rockets can't go back in time
And neither can I

It takes us all a little time to come around
Steady
Hold out a little longer and you will find
She's not the answer

You are the land mark
When we're lost in GB
Driving to hyde park
That we could finally see
When everyone in the car breathes a sigh of relief
You're passing by me

You are the motion
That we make with our hands
When two become one
Despite other plans
With our palms to the past
Back and forth in time
A simple goodbye

It takes us all a little time to come around
Steady
Hold out a little longer and you will find
She's not the answer

You're the only one like me

And I know that
Yes I know that
Come and take me away
I'll be the look of doubt on your face
Or I could just stay away

I turn a light on
And admire the glow
Throw another drink back
Sixth one in a row
Coz I miss you
And I want you home
Or maybe I don't
Maybe I don't
