You have been wondering
What will become of this love
And its causing you to worry
I can assure you
You're the only one I dream of
Feel safe within my arms

Of all the times I remember you
Right here beside me
I knew you'd always be there
With your love to guide me

Climb every mountain
Fly to the heavens
Beyond where the eyes can see
At the end you will find
A road leading back to me

There have been times when
You go out searching for love
You thought you had been missing
You didn't know
That the love you had was enough
To keep the fire burning

Of all the pain and heartache
This world can cause you
I will always be there
With my love to guide you

Climb every mountain
Fly to the heavens
Beyond where the eyes can see
At the end you will find
A road leading back to me

I will be stranded without you
Like a ship that's been lost at sea
I know the star will be you
On a road that leads right back to me
To me

To me

Climb every mountain
Fly to the heavens
Beyond where the eyes can see
At the end you will find
A road leading back
At the end you will find
A road leading back
At the end you will find
A road leading back
To me
