Translation:

This impassioned love

goes on, compelling me to return;

I'm on the road to madness

and although everything tortures me,

I know how to love.

We parted ways some time ago

But the moment of loss arrived.

You had every reason;

I heed my heart

And I'm dying to return.

And to return, to return, to return

To your arms again

I will arrive where you are

I know how to lose, I can take it

I want to return, return, return.
