Once again you won me over with your smile
Once again you've made my life a complicated situation
I'm so confused
I can't get over you
You're the most amazing girl I ever met
You're a Godsend
And I need you in my life.

CHORUS

You always leave me wondering if
If you were the one for me and
If we could just have a little time
We could work things out make it alright
Call you on the phone we can talk all night
Anything to have a little time.

It's not your fault you look amazing everytime I see you
It's not your fault that you're the sweetest thing alive
I'm always in awe
Drop my jaw
Every time I'm in your presence
You're so perfect
And I need you in my life.

CHORUS

You always leave me wondering if
If you were the one for me and
If we could just have a little time
We could work things out make it alright
Call you on the phone we can talk all night
Anything to have a little time.

You always leave me wondering if
If you were the one for me and
If we could just have a little time
We could work things out make it alright
Call you on the phone we can talk all night
Anything to have a little time.

Little time.

Little time.
Little time.
Little time.
