Introspective

sitting here, myself and I sharing our masks my inner strenght is faÃ§ade weÂ´re waiting for the same constantly IÂ´m dreaming of my world inside your eyes the way I yearn for privacy the way I feel tonight

I stroke the flames inside of me before IÂ´ll turn them down one half of mine is silent in distance weÂ´re bound civil lights surrounding me no matter if I dream my torch is getting weaker how long will I be seen?

I push to leave in silence my feelings disappear I close my eyes to bear it how long have I been here?

Am I the only living witness of myselfâ€¦?
