"Redshift"

Down on earth to change the past, everything is said and
Done
Icy lips will scratch your face, everyone is dead and Gone
Joking 'bout a ding world, hiding in the amory
Snipers here in paradise, misery loves company

You must close your eyes to see, there is no reality
You know time is not our friend
You must die to see the light, this world is no place to Hide
I know this could be the end

There's a young man on my mind, the blind will never see
The blind
There's a killer in your room, mesmerized by your perfume
Daytrip to the quicksand fields, not least because of Being cool
We force the pianist to play boring works with heart and Soul
