Listen to this sad old song, it's rain, I know you cry
Let's watch the dark old sea tonight, it feels like Coming home
I've dreams to give, I'm tired, a mind for sale, I'm weak
Don't be afraid, come closer, enjoy the way I feel

Life's becoming faster but I want to be slow
You still reach for higher goals, I still prefer the low

All the places of my youth have been changed by time and
Man
Everytime I walk these streets, I feel no happy view

Watching satellites tonight, silently they're passing by
Everytime I close my eyes, I lose all sense of time

Chorus

Your frozen pool is glowing to light my way back home
I'm absolutly outside, I guess I'm unwelcome
Staring to the lights outside, calm down, I'll stay
Tonight
A loser can't be beautiful, it's like a family portrait
