Blade, ready to die?
I was born ready motherfucker
Daywalkerv

Yo, yo, yo, it's the feast of the blood with sin
Unleash the beast within
I walk around with the strength of a hundred men
You best to run before I count to ten

Blood drippin' from my canine like a fountain pen
It seems I've been asleep for a thousand years
The way my world has changed it bring me a thousand tears
Prince of Darkness, they walk through the rays of light

To this, beat a vampire, I'm the prototype
The shape-shifting mirror image flash photo type
To everlasting original red blood, O-type

He was born perfect
And just like the great white shark
This guy has never had to evolve

Try to do with my name, that's fatal
Try to claim my fame
(But)
That's fatal
About to bring the pain, that's fatal
Bite through your jugular vein, that's fatal

Try to do with my name, that's fatal
Try to claim my fame
(But)
That's fatal
About to bring the pain, that's fatal
Bite through your jugular vein, that's fatal

Come on, walk with me
Come on, walk with me
Come on, walk with me
Walk with me

Come on, walk with me
Come on, walk with me
Come on, walk with me
Walk with me
Come on, walk with me

You're not immortal
I must have heard hundreds of you rodents make the same claim
Each one of them have tasted the end of my sword

I strike back with a vengeance
The father of your descendants
And I can't be deflected by your silver cross pendants
Bloody holy water, you make the false images
Once waiting for the sickle, aah, your life diminishes

Sting like the scorpion, strike with the force of ten
My blood is known to revitalise the corpse of men
In the last days they say the dead will walk again
The blind deaf and the dumb will talk again

Try to use my name, that's fatal
Try to claim my fame
(But)
That's fatal
About to bring the pain, that's fatal
Bite through your jugular vein, that's fatal
