an overwhelming understanding of chaos brings you to your knees impurities make me the way I am the dirt in my veins the games on my thoughts the stains on your face they break apart
motherfuckin
pushing the envelope
life sets me off
pushing the envelope
hate gets me off
pushing the envelope
gets me off
your face it sets me off I'm curled up inside myself I wont imagine the pictures If I had prosthetic eyes I still think that I'd see the same satisfy retribution inside to reassemble innocence inside subsequent afternoons turning out scared bothered by fallacies everyone's scared chorus/2
killing myself like a tool in wrong disqueting changes in direction just keep on pushing motherfucker
