I should have seen you've been crying.
How could I just let it pass?
I wanna know, so let's take it slow,
I'll give you my time here at last.

Life is the time we've been given.
Why are we rushing away?
I should have seen that your eyes were so keen.
To tell you had something to say.

How are you? How are you?
How are you? How are you?

I will never know,
What would have happened if I asked you before?

How are you? How are you?
How are you? How are you?
