The sun is gone
I'm standing in the rain
The sun is gone
I can't hide the pain
Can't pretend that nothing is wrong
Can't pretend that you haven't gone

A silent song
The words don't mean a thing
A silent song
The chords don't evoke a thing
Won't you just sing our forgotten song?
Don't you just wanna sing along?

Bring back those summer days...
Before you walked away
Before those clouds turned to grey

The sun is gone but I'm standing in the rain
The sun is gone but composure I maintain
A kind smile tells me we're doing ok
We're doing ok
Soothing words tell me we all make mistakes
Now I know it takes a lot for this heart to break
We're doing ok
I'm doing ok

Were we wrong?
Was it just a game?
Were we wrong?
It's such a crying shame
We'll hang it in a silver frame
Hang it on the wall
Forget the rain

Bring back those summer days...
Before you walked away
Before those clouds turned to grey

The sun is gone but I'm standing in the rain
The sun is gone but composure I maintain

A kind smile tells me we're doing ok
We're doing ok
Soothing words tell me we all make mistakes
Now I know it takes a lot for this heart to break
We're doing ok
I'm doing ok
