

Little Dead Bertha

"Last Way In Nowhere"

The slow wind as breath of death
Forgotten dreams and silent pain
Don't cry on me, I leave for you
Pale light of moon and tears of rain

My last way in nowhere
I know this and go away
May be somewhere
I again see light of day

And ghostly whisper of yellow leafs
And dying trees in autumn world
Forgotten words and losing dreams
When I dissolve in endless cold

My last way in nowhere
I know this and go away
May be somewhere
I again see light of day
