

Little Nemo

"Running to the sun"

Visit "Running to the sun" on MotoLyrics.com

Leaving the rush of crowded streets
To feel a virgin earth beneath your feet
The shaft of sunlighth that shines on you
It makes you look like something new

You came across the lands and seas
You think you know what "open space" means
Now you're under that southern latitude
It seems like you vision shall be reviewed

Playing with fire, you know your wings will burn
Ignoring the danger, you're still running to the sun
A careless journey to the point of no return
Head over heels, you're running to the sun

Leaving the rush of crowded streets
To feel a virgin earth beneath your feet
The shaft of sunlighth that shines on you
It makes you look like something new

Playing with fire, you know your wings will burn
Ignoring the danger, you're still running to the sun
A careless journey to the point of no return
Head over heels, you're running to the sun

Submitter's comments:Â

Bon sÃ©jour loin des rues et de la foule, joli chaton dans les nuages.

Visit Little Nemo page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.