Meet me on top of the world,
It's you who turned yourself into the
Most lonely girl, were gonna shake it up tonight...

So Put your hands up,
If your feeling like you should have had another chance,
And if your wishing that you could have gone back and changed your past.
Well lets see those hands.
And if you take into consideration all the things,
That brought us meaning to this love, this meaning everything.
Do I want that back?

You look so good,
And it felt so right.

Meet me on top of the world.
It's you who turned yourself
Into the Most lonely girl.
Were gonna shake it up tonight,
With your eyes open wide and your mouth on mine.
Lets not make this boring, when the sun comes up,
We'll regret in the morning.

So put em' up, put em' up, put em' up on high,
So put em' up, so you can barley touch the sky.

Ships sunk, and you've already clocked out.
You're trying to find away to get back in doubt.
You found a way to stay late, now your kind of half way,
Now your going insane, can you feel me?
You dipped feet, that's all your really about,
Your waist deep, and all your wanting is out.
You found a way to stay late, now your kind of half way,
Now your going insane, can you feel me?

Make and break and shake this off your shoulders,
It's all we've got, it's all that we've got.
Move your lips, you've gotta shake your hips and,

Like this you you've gotta clap your hands and,
Gotta let it go, so we can put this behind us.
