"Now You Know"

I know what it was you did to me.
And I know what it was you said.
And made me feel for the very first time
That I'd give everything I have
In exchange for a night with you.
Well I put my heaven to you.
I don't know how to say this, how do even begin?
But I'm trying to describe this day I need
And you talked to me I can't focus of what you're saying:
Cause' my mind gets lost in a moment of your lips, in color of your eyes
And the touch of your hands and the touch of my lips right close to your Ear
And whisper thing that you are only meant to hear
I'm falling for you; stupid thing to do.
But there you go
At least now you know that I lose.
